RE: Proposed Intel Derivative Action Settlement

Dear Judge:

I am a member of the class listed above and I own shares of Intel in my own name. I would like you to know that I do not believe that the Proposed Settlement document I was provided is in plain English. What I take the most exception to is that the document doesn't explain why the attorneys fees are so excessive and why Defendant D. James Guzy has his own counsel for the case.

Please understand that because I believe the document I was provided is not in plain English, I cannot voice any disgust with the settlement. However I would ask that you take into consideration all factors when awarding attorneys fees.

Thank you.

Sincerely,

Alexander Mackenzie
